

28.445

License Revocation

In order to prove the defendant's driver's license was revoked, the State need not prove actual receipt of the notice or actual knowledge of the revocation, but must prove mailing of a revocation notice to the defendant.

Source:        State v. Jennings, 150 Ariz. 90, 722 P.2d 258 (1986).

---

NOTE:        This instruction is to be given only if the State is alleging revocation pursuant to A.R.S. § 28-445. A.R.S. § 28-453 requires proof of mailing but not proof of receipt.